TO THE READER.

Courteous Reader,

WHatever the more general Affairs of the World may do, I find it not possible for me, and Sir Teigue (as yet at least) to stable our Horses together.

Each different Creature Acts its natural Game; Teigue always was, and still will be the same.

What Rebellious Blood bounds upon Earth, ever Received such Civilities, as the Pagans of Ireland always have, in time of Peace received from their unjustly protoked (and yet so frequently abused) Protestant Neighbours? and yet for all that, the opportunity never offered, that they omitted, to procure their Destruction. Witness, Their Barbarous Murders of forty one, when without the least provocation, those Hellish Blood-Successors, incouraged by their Cursed Clergy, by all the very worst, and most Cruel Tortures, their Cursed Souls could invent; without the least Regard, or Remorse to Friend, or Acquaintance; in Cold Blood; sported away the Lives of two or three hundred Thousand Men, Women and Children: for no other Reason, but merely, for being Protestants and of the Brittish Race. And for all that, yet when the War was over, and they found they were forced to submit, (but not before) no People on Earth, ever pretended more Love; till by their Accustomed Fawning, they again Wheedled themselves into the dearest Affections, even of such as had been sharers of their Cruelty; till at length, they found ways to put their Old Trade in Practice; and had not our now Gracious Sovereign's landing in England prevented: They had as certainly destroyed all the Protestants of Ireland, in particular, as they did Dean Dixy's Son, and Mr. Charlton in Feb 1689. on Mr. Russels Sign Post in Bellcurbet, several days they had given, or at least promised them fair Quarter; Gilmoy's Honour, had a promise to return Mr. Dixy in one mc. Guire, who upon Oat assurance was sent in. But that was but Popish Mercy and Quarter, and what what every Protestant within their Power should have Taken if their Sword had prevail'd. And tho' they have been forgiven that, and all their Plundering and Destruction, which they brought upon the Nation: Yet such is their Impudence at the writing of this, publickly, to assert, That all the Rest of the Confederates have made Peace with France, and Excluded King WILLIAM, and agreed again to Restore King James; or else suddenly joyn and make England and Ireland the Seat of War and indeed; if it were not for the Sufferings of others, it were but just the Irish should, once more feel the smart of a War for till some such thing has wrought their inevitable Destruction they will never be induced, to avoid their Villany; and for the Comfort let me tell them, nothing but what they will find true, That on that very moment when any such separate Peace is concluded; will I Date the Beginning of the then sudden, and final Downfall of the Pope, and Popish Power in Christindome; and let it be remembred, that it is Whalley says it; and that he has very seldom told them any thing, but what to their sorrow they have found as True as Steel; notwithstanding their Souls were so hellishly hardened, that they could never be induced to believe, till the Evil approached the Door; Nor. can I think that an Angel from Heaven, could induce them to believe any thing contrary to the daily Perswasions of their Clergy, and their own natural Desires and Inclinations. It's strange, that any People should be so worse than Jew-like hardened; as not to see how justly Heaven hath always punished them, for their continued Villanies, and for fear of greater Judgments, endeavour an Amendment. Yet so Seared are their Souls with ambiguous Dreams, That I am perswaded, they will never Reform, till God doth pour some far more heavy Vial of his Wrath and Judgment upon them; which even now justly hangs over their Heads; and which, that Heaven may be pleased to Avert from his better People, are the Cordial Supplications of 1 a	Circumcision	belly	The Astrological Observations for this Month, depend chiefly upon the winter Ingress and for that refer you to the 17, 18, 19, and 20th pages of the general Observations , hereinafter mentioned; and shall only add here, that the variety of Aspects of this month, will beget variety of Cabals, Parties, Consultations and Debates , about matters of great moment; and particular such as will tend to the undermining and frustrating one another. One endeavours to build, and others to destroy; and among other things, I am subject to think, that this month will produce some eminent accusations it not Removats and Plotting also. Some are Debased , others Exalted , and among the Rest, one or more who wear Long Coats mounts lustily. Advertisement, let such as are troubled with the Scurvy, drop sic, or any other Distemper, or any Pain. 1	d	Curious and	loins	All the buffels, hurry and noise of the two past months, seem now at a stand; or indeed rather to change into an order of Peace; or at least of putting things into a state whereon to ground Treaties & matters to that purpose, in some succeeding months; & I am inclin'd to believe they will advance so far, as to make people think, there may be a general Peace concluded, much sooner than indeed it will be; yet I believe they will lay a foundation, whereon the succeeding Peace will be built. Whoever is, or is not concern'd therein, the Emperor is highly solicited for his compliand; yet will not easily be wrought upon, but must have things done much to the advantage of himself as well as his Friends. Some Gownman or Gownmen mounts the Stage, and makes more than a little Figure in the Play.

Several Offices and places of Honour &amp; Trust which former months left vacant are now supplied; and several Ambassies &amp; Treaties again renewed and set on foot, in order to bring business to an end; but I suppose must leave them unfinished till towards the latter end of the year: if not then also; even the Turk pushes hard about this time for Peace, and yet at the same time seems Rampant; he will be yet longer troublesome.

If I mistake not the matter, I suppose I may venture to say, that about this time, we shall be made sensible, that all the healing endeavours of the last month were not able to settle things, in that calm state, that was lately expected to be brought to pass before this time; for the Sun, Mars and Mercury opposing Jupiter, and squaring Saturn; will without all doubt, put most things and states into great disorder, and every good design that now is on foot, will not fail of its Ague. I am subject to believe, that we shall not fail to be made sensible of something extraordinary to be now on foot which relates to Religion, and that too, of, or among such as descent from God eating Popery; whatever it is, it seems to be general, and what is the concern of some Nation or Nations; I fear some under hand dealings among the Dear Jays, or their friends. It is strange if we should have already forgot their late favours.

The Square of Jupiter & Mercury the begining of this month from Cardinal Signs, will undoubtedly occasion considerable interruptions, to the present debates of Europe, whether they be such as relate to Peace, or Settlement of Nations and Kingdoms, in their own domestick concerns; or otherwise, they seem to pretend a little to persons Ecclesiastical and things sacred; whatever it is the Author is weak, and must therefore fall short of the end designed. Mars in Geminy seems to require the Care of Englands Metropolis the last month, and this, to prevent Pagan & Jacobite favours; but as he there lends his friendly Aspect to h and ♀, so he shews great endeavours to be even in or near this very month, used, to Heal the present Distempers of sickly Christendome, and I believe will make a considerable Progreis, at least, I conclude it will give Mounseur greater reason, than he hath hitherto found, to hope for Peace.

1	g	I expect	face	However happy the posture of Affairs seem'd last month, they prove but very ordinary in this; the friendly endeavours then used; for the present are touched with some of the aforementioned Leven, and therewith all is put into an unresonable ferment. And to be short, whatever Mischiefs or Distractions, were the beginning of the last month on foot, cannot in this fail to be renewed in a double proportion, and besides other things, and persons, be forementioned; I am of opinion, we shall hear of great Debates, about such persons and things, as relate to the Sea; either about Bounds and Priviledges, or Fleets and Prerogatives; if not Storms &amp; other Mischiefs also. Whatever they be, they seem such, as relates to the General concerns of Nations; and indeed to dart their Effects at Scotland and Holland. 'Tis well if some Jesuitical Roguery be not there on foot, to undermine their Happiness

1	C	Lammas	should	Saturn opposing Sol, last month; and ♀ and ♂ in this; at the place of Mars at the great Conjunction 1682. will give Villanier, Violence and Mischiefs in abundance; and those too, such as will eminently concern persons of the most exalted Stations in Europe; or such as bear the Title or Name equal with such. All the Holy-Water in Christendom, is not sufficient, to wash my faith so clean, as to induce me to believe, but that the Pious Sons of good Mother Church, are now busie Consecrating some Sanctified Dose for Eradicating what their Fatherly Holinesses are pleased to call Heresie. Or for the Eternal Repose, of some Eminent Prince or Princess of Christendom. Therefore it concerns the State Physitians of the Northern parts, to provide timely Antidotes, to oppose such favours. There is something on foot in Scotland and Holland, which I fear will not period in their Advantage.

1 f	△ h ♀	heart	I expect some part of the Influences of the last month will be spent in this ; and among other things, I pray God they produce not a sickly Autum ; for Saturn is the great Grand Father of poysinous Attomes , and now in square to ♄ and ♀, who Rules the Blood &amp; Spirits , and do no less, than threaten some such mischief; at least he will stir up Divisions and Discord , among Councels of States and Nations ; and particularly such as relate to Liberty , Properly & Settling , or rectifying present Disputes and Debates about Religion & Settlement ; yet not such as will be able to hinder ; (they can only Disturb ) the present peace making endeavours of the world ; for from hence forward I find things generally tending to Peace in Christendome . If old James yet lives, he is now in the 64th year of his Age, and if not taking his final leave, is forced to bid adieu to his late expectations.

But in Michaelmas Term, the Judges always Adjourn all business, till the 6th of November.

Blest be those Judges, who throughout the Land, Distribute Justice, with an equal Hand.
 Thanks Heaven that we have liv'd once more to see,
 Our Benches fill'd with such just men to be;
 Those woful Days, I cannot yet forget,
 When Broage-Tongue Pagans, did there Bawling Sit,
 To Serge our Charters, and Subvert our Laws,
 And give our Selves into their Hellhounds Paws.
 Their Damnd Religion, and their Laws agree,
 Justice they Hate, for Truth they Punish me;
 Like Judge, like Jurors, Nagens, Rics, Malone,
 And other pretty Birds of Forty One Did then Conspire; Perjurers and all,
 To give all Protestants a Total Fall.

General Observations for the Year

1697.

THE cleanest Field of Corn is not without some Weeds, nor the most perfect Man Indubitable. No man (says the Ingenious Feltham) can write six lines but there may be something one may Carp at, if he be design'd to cavel, for Opinions are as various, as false: and Judgment is from every Tongue a several; therefore (before I proceed to consider the Face of Affairs for the Year 1697.) I think it not impertinent, to forestal the Designs of such who (tho they themselves are Guilty even in subjects of the same kind, of things abundantly more blame worthy) are always ready (like the Hypocrite in the Gospel (Luke 6. 41) to Remark A mote in their Brothers Eye, but cannot discern a Beam in their own. I am not like the Blackmore who always conceives his own Brat, (tho' never so deform'd) the most Beautiful. I can as readily see and Correct a blemish in my own Child, as in any other Mans. Ever since I was capable of distinguishing the Nature of things, I have been of Opinion there is no perfection under the Sun: yet ever disliked obstinate persisting in palpable Error, and always esteem'd it abundance more commendable in every one to acknowledge their own overights, and to endeavour their amendment; then to subject them to the scanning of such, who perhaps are themselves, Daily guilty, of what is abundance worse, then what they may pretend to Carp at. And that I may not seem to Affect that in others which I comply nor with my self: I think fit to Remark, that notwithstanding I took all due Care, to form my last Years Copy, with all possible exactness: yet after it was Published, I observed some Erratas had pass'd the Press; the most material of which are, first in the Term-Table, Hilary Term, is said to begin Jan. 20. which should have been Jan. 23d. Secondly, in the Explanation of the Money Table; it is said, to know the Value of 100 l. which should have been

General Observations for the Year 1697.

been said, to know the Value of 100 light Plate Cobs, &c.
ble. Thirdly in the Month of November, the figure four for the 4th day is omitted, and the figure 5 put in its place; and so tho' in all there is but 30 days in full Number, being successfully reckoned from the first to the last, yet by the last figure, at the bottom, it seems to be said to contain 31 Days, viz. one more then really it doth. Fourthly, in the Explanation of the Tide Table; for finding the Moons Rising and Setting, it is said, that against 19 the Moons Age in the first Column; you may find in the 2d Column 10 h. 24 min. which should be 8 h.
 48 m. Fifthly, in the General Observations, at the bottom of the 3d page, it is said the Winter Quarter commenceth March 9.
 yet notwithstanding the Winter Quarter is before that, rightly said to begin the 11th of Decemb. all which cannot but be palpable to any that have but sense enough to crack a Nut, and therefore not to be suspected to proceed from alike error in the Copy by any but such as are byas'd by prejudice: if any be so blinded the Copy can acquit it self; I wish I could do so too but I must be so just, ingeniously to confess, that tho' the defects were not in the Copy, I had the Reading of the first sheet of every part before it pass'd the Press; and therefore as ly-able as the Printer, to be Charged for not using more care in Correcting. I own my fault, and if any Man can say he is faultless, I say to him as our Saviour said to the Hypocrite, John 8. 7.

*He that can all oversights disown,
 Is welcome first, at me to cast a Stone.*

The Holy David was a Man after Gods own Heart, and his Son Solomon, exceeded all the world for Wisdom: and yet the sacred Register bear Record of both their failings. Perfection is a Prerogative of the Deity only, and whoever presumes to Infringe that, is lyable to an Arraignment at the Almighty Tribunal.

I am sensible that Confidence plac'd upon the Wheels of Ignorance will, and often times do presume to run abundance farther, then the most exalted of Human Wisdom dare pretend to; (yet with submission to the more Reverend Judgment of his (Un-Holiness the Pope and his Idolatrous Bigots) all Humane kind, must for ever fall short of the extream point of Infal-lability. Let ~~on~~ whose Faith Runs farther) believe in their

General Observations for the Year 1697.

Judgment leads them. I don't expect to perswade all the world to submit to my Opinion, Some humours run one way, and others another; what's one Mans meat, may to another be equal to Poyson; some fancy one thing, and some another. So that I shall for ever Despair ( more especially by Writing ) to please all Men; and therefore I generally endeavour to oblige my own Fancy; and such as are pleased as I am, may Read and welcom, and for such as are otherwise, are as welcome to let mine alone, and do what may be more pleasing for themselves. 'Tis not one swallow makes a Summer, not one field of Corn a Harvest; nor one sort of People that yearly buyes Almanacks; for if it were so, such as are sometimes impos'd upon the People of Ireland, would turn to so slender an account, that the Printers would soon grow weary of that Labour.

I condemn no Man's candid endeavours; but should be always glad to find, every one a more industrious Bee than my self, to bring more, and better Hony to the Hive of knowledge: and ever like the Gospel Widow, (Luk. 21. 2.) Ready to contribute my Mite for the Advancement of every weaker Brothers knowledge. I dare not boast of my own acquirements, because I must ever Subscribe my self one of the meanest of Uranias's Servants, nor yet shall I be so immodest to pretend in point of Art, to extend my Judgment beyond, nor indeed so far, as some others of my Elder Brethren, yet without the vanity of boasting; I can for the Reputation of Astrology boldly say, that by that very Art alone, I have been able ever since I came from London, to this Kingdom 1682 constantly (not only to foresee, but also often several years before they hapned) to foretew the since material Transactions in Europe. And the better to palliate and ballance my late far weaker oversights; I presume to take leave, as an Introduction to the following Discourse, out of a multitude of others, every where to be seen in my yearly Almanacks; to quote a few of those many Remarkable Predictions, which such as doubt may upon comparing them with the Original, find to be veritum as followeth, viz.

In my Observations for the Year 1683 (Printed by Mrs. Crook) having in the preceding part Threatned largely of the great Comet 1680. and the great Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter 1682 &c. Page the 3th of General Observations.

14933 Cities, Towns, Castles and Villages, and kill'd 91198 Christians, besides 108809 Souls which they carried away Prisoners to Turkish Slavery. And in England Popery then cast off her Vizard, and laid the Foundation of all our since Miseries in shamming their damnable Plot which was discovered by Oates 1679. by turning it to that called the Ryehouse Plot, for which Russel; Armstrong, Cornish, the Protestant Foyner and others were made a Sacrifice 1683. the Charter of London was called to question, &c. and what have since succeeded to confirm the rest of the prediction before seven years were added to 1683, as in the prediction is mentioned, I leave every one to consider.

In my Almanack 1685. page 2. of the General Observations speaking of the aforesaid great Comet its said; And though I dare not particularize to any other Country the like loss with that beforementioned; yet I dare be bold to predict that the Effects of the late Triple Conjunction of  $\Pi$  and  $\Upsilon$  in  $\mathcal{Q}$  will give as ample proof of the certainty of Astrology as that Comet.

ons Curs! black Bloody Moles, viz: The under hand Council and Contrivance of the Breed of Rome, who tho they would make great mischief, would in Conclusion miss their end of Rooting up the Protestant Religion of these three Kingdomes; as we have since seen they attempted: the other verses had Relation to Argile and Monmouth's Confederating to Invade England and Scotland, that very year, and their falling thereby into their own pit. In February the Same year, I mention'd the Death of an Eminent Heroe, and I suppose most men remember that even in that month King Charles dyed. The Observations of May and June that Year, spoke as plainly as could in Reason be expected, of the then throng of Mischiefs both in England and Scotland; which no other Almanack, for that year did so much as mention but mine, yet it was then Argile, Monmouth, Sidney, and their Adherents fell. Oates & Dangerfield, were proved perjured by the Boys of St Omers; for only telling truths which Tender ear'd Popery could not endure to hear, and whose woful effects we have Since seen too, too truly verified.

In my Ephemeris for 1686. not a page but every where poynts out, the then transactions of Europe which such as shall please to compare with the History of that years affairs will find every where to Correspond so largely, that this whole Almanack would be to little to contain the enumerating of them. I will only repeat one which poynted at the Intrigues then used, by that Government to beget a Division among the Protestants of England, the better to manage their Designs of taking off the Penal Laws, and setting up Popery: and that is in the third page of the General Observations; where directing my Discourse to the then De'luded Protestants, it is said,

It is a strange thing People should be so Stupified and Blinded by the poison of Bosom Snakes; that neither the threatnings of Heaven, woful experience of others, nor their own daily sufferings will divert them from being led like Bears by the Nose to Stakes of Perdition, purposely Fostered in Masquerade for their Confusion. Can a Man take fire into his Bosom and his Cloaths not be burnt, can a Man go upon hot coals, and his Feet not be burnt, which as the times then were; was as much as could be expected to be said upon the occasion, by any that had any regard for self preservation, and yet was as much as to say, can you expect to root out the very fundamental Security of your Religion, &c. and yet suppose to be safe under a Popish power, its Strange Men will not be perswaded, from Runing Headlong into the means, which (tho they will not be perswaded to believe) will inevitably period in their own Destruction.

In my Observations for the year 1687. The said page 3 that the Conjunction of Saturn and Mars, which happened Oct. 22. 1686. in Libra the Sign opposite to Aries the Ascendant of England, Germany, &c. would in a large measure afflict those places either with Domestick or Foreign Enemies,

And breach of Oaths and Faith that's by them ty'd,

False promises, Deceit and Fraud beside,

Neighbours and Friends, or such as should be so,

Now daily see each others overthrow.

Yet all these Snares and Traps for others laid,

To th<sup>e</sup> Founders Cost or Issue will be paid.

And having after that mentioned several miserable Calamities which succeeded some Configurations of the Year 1634. which were something like those at the Ingress 1687. I say, page the 1st as those were the Prodromus of so much Misery, those of 1687, would not be a whit inferior either in speed or consequence, to what ever place or people, Providence should dispose of the Effects. And a little after, I will not peremptorily affirm these will happen in this very Year; yet will assume the Freedom to declare, that the Stars now severely threaten, and unless prevented by immediate Providence, (will if not in this) in some succeeding Years, be found to pour down, most severe showers of their dire influence upon Christendom.

To confirm the Verses we Remember how far the late King and his Crew stood by their Repeated Obligations when contrary to the Coronation Vow, and his repeated Declarations, to support the Protestants in their Religion, Liberties and Properties, (without Mask or Vizard, even in that Year barefac'd) Run through all.

In 1688. in my General Observations, page 5. 6. &c. treating of the Perual Ingress, its said Mars Lord of the tenth, in the Tenth weak in Taurus; his Detriment among the Pleides, a turbulent Sign and Constellation, in Square to Venus his Dispositor, in the 7th Signifies a Necessity in Princes, and Persons in Authority, to borrow Moneys, or impose the then usual Taxes taxes on their Subjects : and will Animate them to Choller, Cruelty and Rashness. One King, Prince, Nobleman and Chief Commander will be Subject to contend and quarrel with another. &c. Some Eminent Prince or Princes of Europe will, even in this Year be subjected to the Contempt and Reproach of his or their pretended Subjects or Neighbours, Treachery, Restraint, &c. and so forward with as much plainness as possible any one could with safety Predict the down fall of a Prince under whom he lived therein, pointed at the then approaching down fall of the late K. J<sup>a</sup>. and his Arbitrary Government, and not of them only but his Queen also. And page 9th, It's added that Luna separating from the Body of Saturn, and void of course (in that years Revolution) promisseth but little satisfaction to the Vulgar; but rather Disappointments, Woe; Grief, Sorrow, and Affliction wherever Providence shall dispose the Effects. But that which is most Remarkable in this Revolution is, the partile square of Saturn and Jupiter from Cardinal Signes, which will usher in, and that in earnest too; the Effects of their Conjunctions in the Years 1682. and 1683. and make the world sensible that such Congresses, have influence upon the State of Laws, Customs, Constitutions and Priviledges, of Nations, Persons, Places, and things Ecclesiastical, and to change them too. And therefore it is not to be expected, Astrologers should under them, preach Peace and Tranquility when the contrary is so severely threatned as now : and I dare aver will be felt by most States and Degrees of People in Europe : for while some that have been long wallowing in Blood are preparing and contriving to ease themselves of those Burdens ; others are as fast Running into the like extreams.

These Predictions are plain and positive, and tho when they were Writ, all things were in so calm a State, that there was little Room so much as to think, of their being as they were every tittle fulfill'd before that Year 1688 was fully expir'd, by the thorough Change of the Civil Government of England, and both Civil and Ecclesiastical in Scotland. And pag. 10th. Great Britain is much concerned in this Month's proceedings, and Holland is not Idle, but rather preparing for Action; That Nation is about this time making more then usual preparation for fitting out shipping or some considerable Naval Action. Towards this Month we may expect to hear of some Petti-

General Observations for the Year 1697.

Coat Treachery, or work in agitation, and many Acts and Contrivances to deprive an Eminent Female of what she conceive her just right. There is not much difference between the latter end of May and the 10th of June, on which the pretended Pr. of Wales was said to be Born: however if I had said, about the latter end of May, or the beginning of June 1688. we shall hear of a sham Prince of Wales, set up to deprive her Royal Highness the Princess of Orange of her just Right to the Crown of England, and that for so doing the King, Queen and Government shall be changed in order to set the Saddle upon the right Horse, the Pillory would not have served my turn. And to close all, in November its said, Saturn and Mars changing their signs in Conjunction, will suddenly change the ballance of Affairs, bring Offenders to punishment, occasion bad Weather and many Changes in Affairs of Government, Church and State, And in December an Eminent Female receives affliction, and many other Removals from their Honours, Offices, and Employments, to make Room for others conceived more deserving. And every where throughtout the whole Book, abundance more to the like purpose, which want of Room hinders to be inserted here.

Before the fulfilling of those predictions I had in August 1688. compleated my Almanack for the Year 1689. tho' then there was no appearance of Change in the Government of England, or the French proclaiming War against the Emperor, King of Spain, and Hollander. Yet concluding the infallible Confirmation of those Predictions (omitting many others in the General Observations) pag. 6th. Its said, "Germany is already engaged and will not be otherwise this Year, for Mars hasting to a Square of Saturn, and Mercury to a square of him, shews rather an increase, or at least a continuation of the present Rupture with Turkey, if not a fresh one with France also, which I rather conclude then otherwise. Ignoble or common People will be subject to exalt themselves, and to slight and disdain the Nobility and great ones, and that too not only among Turks and Barbarians, but others professing Christianity, Will be subject to Murmur, Grumble and Repine at the actions and proceedings of their Superiors, if not to condemn them also. The Sextile of Sol and Mars, &c. shews that no undutiful measures <sup>do</sup> now hinder the Indulgences and favour of Princes from even their most undeserving Subjects.

General Observations for the Year 1697.

“ Subjects. And particularly some Northern Prince or King, “ (meaning the now King of England) seems to excell in such “ undeserved Acts of Grace and Favors, that nothing but a Pam“ pered Israel would be wanting in dutiful Returns. And yet for all this, an extream fear possesses mens minds in many and divers places, and Saturn at the summer Ingress upon the Cusp of the 9th, shews Controversies to arise among the generality of Men for Diversity of Judgment in Religious concerns, &c. The last degree of a Sign on the Cusp of the 9th at both the Vernal and Summer Ingress, &c. do really signifie a wonderful Revolution in the billance of most Affairs, and among Persons of most degrees, in several Places, but chiefly those concerned in, and relating to Ecclesiastical Matters, &c. and herein seems to Centre the many long and weighty Debates of several Months preceeding the Ingress, and that too with much greater and more general Satisfaction than till now expected. And to be short the year (how Terrible soever it looks) will be spent rather in Words, Debates and Paper Wars, than Blows; and yet some may be expected even in these Northern Parts of the World; for as I observed before, Mars being Angular, &c. Threatens Holland with Losses at Sea, or grand Difference, if not open War with France and Scotland, with Contentions and Divisions about Religion, &c. And to be short, the whole Almanack for that year 1689 every where plainly points out the Rupture which that year broke out with France; the various Revolutions in England, Change of Religion in Scotland, and what ever else then happened in any part of Europe.

In July 1689. I writ my Almanack for 1690 in England, where most ingenious Men, as well Astrologers as others, concluded that Ireland would be reduced even in that year 1690, and accordingly signified so much in their Writings. However, though I as earnestly thirsted for it as any Man, yet I positively writ my Opinion to the contrary in my Observations on Decemb. where treating of the Reasons which I supposed might induce others to be of that Opinion, the Words are the World, as yet falls short of so great Blessings.—For just as ☉ enters ♋, ♀ salutes him with a ☐, &c. From Cardinal Signs, which fails not to demonstrate, that things are not yet arrived at that Perfection which lately was about this time expected, and so gives not only an unhappy conclusion to this year, but alike beginning to the next. Yet in my Observations on May, June and July. Whereby the Name of the Cut-throats in Ireland its said, They are now paying their Reckoning in earnest, one pair of Heels are worth two pair of Hands, and a pair of Broages to beat the Bogs, worth the best pair of Jack-Boots or Gelding in Christendom. -- That the Game of Out and In, now becomes a play again, to turn Knaves Out, and just Men In. In short, it is a Time of great Alteration in Offices, Employments and Places of Honour and Trust, it looks like the Restoration of Persons duly Qualified; Charters and the like to their Antient State. Jupiter and Mercury are the principal concern'd, and they signify Places, Persons and things of that Nature: And the Square of Sol and Jupiter now, and of Mars and Saturn brings Offenders of that kind to Justice, the Work is so general, that even Petty-Coats are not exempted, &c. Now you Worthies of Ireland, That could last year Cut and Slash the Laws at Pleasure, to Rob and Ruin the Innocent and Just, what can you say for your selves, and those your Villanies, &c. consider how you like such Food your selves, now justly Dish'd up for you? and every where else both the monthly and general Observations for that year were as plain and particular to the same purpose.

My Observations for the year 1691 were every where full of the then Transactions and Fates, as they then in each of them hapned to the Dear-Foyes. In June I tell you, The Season grows Ripe for Action, however, I do not expect any thing material this Month, except the taking Athlone, &c. The end is near, but not yet fully compleate and we know that even within the compass of that Month Athlone was taken, and the next month succeeded by the Battle at Aughrim, and then the Words are

In every of the first four Months 1692. I advised London in particular of the Plot then hatching against the Government ; and in May when it was discovered, my Words were. This Month is ushered in with the Discovery of some Plot, That has been hatching for several Months past, &c. In July I said, This month will afford as much Blood in France, or its Frontiers as July last did at Aughrim ; and in August (when the Duke of Savoy, fell on one side, the Confederates on another and the English Army and Fleet, on another) the words were Mounsier, is now tickl'd at his own weapon, and but indifferently Satisfied to find his own mischiefs return'd upon his own head. Meaning his intended Invasion the May before ; and the Incursons and Inrodes he had made into his Neighbours Countrys ; then by his Neighbours made upon him. And in my General Observations on the Vernal Ingress, that year, there was these words, I expect there will be an Invasion now, but not by France, (as it was about that time expected) upon either England, Ireland or Scotland, but much to Mounsiers dissatisfaction ; as it was by England, then upon his Goals.

My Almanack for the year 1693 was so abused by the Printer, that I writ none afterwards, till that of the last year, wherein, I suppose few who did well consider what I writ ; but may remember that in January speaking of Raperees. ' I advise such as have the ill luck to live where such frequent, to look sharp, for their Mischiefs will now swarm ; and not theirs only, but those of greater consequence also, meaning the Plot. And in February speaking of the Configurations of Mars and Mercury, I tell you, their Square is bad but their opposition worse, and at the best always are the habengers of Grand Frauds and Villanies, and therefore I doe not expect to find them them more friendly now ; but rather conclude their unkind Influence, will be found advanc'd to the utmost ; and that too not only in common Thefts, Forgeries, Perjuries and other like Villanies, (which are ever Attendants on these Congresses;) but also in matters that do concern the Affairs of States and Nations, &c : and in my General Observations on the Winter

Ingress, having shewn out of Peter Walsh an Irish Papist Historian, the Barbarous and Bloody Inclinations Natural to the Irish, for near three thousand years past, I endeavour'd thereby, to press the minds of my Readers, the better to take notice of the succeeding prediction, relating to the Plot, which was in these following words ; Viz. 'Assure yourselves that even now while they are Fawning and Wheedling themselves into your Bosoms, they are as busie as the time and Circumstance will give leave, Praying and contriving for Restoring their late King James and Prince of Wales, and the Exaltation of their Idolatrous worship. Remember I tell you that unless we look sharp and take timely care we shall too late repent it. Which was as plain warning of the hellish Conspiracy then on Foot, as could reasonably be expected from any, but such as were concerned therein. 'Tis true, that discourse had relation to the late worshipful Cut-throats of Ire- land, and if any Protestant unless a Bigotted Jacobite can have so large a proportion of Charitable faith, as to believe the Irish were not concern'd in that Villany, I pity their Delusions ; and must crave leave to beg their Pardon for not Joyning with them in that Opinion, and among many other motives which confirms me in that belief, besides what my Art Induceth me to tell you, that after the Publishing of that Almanack, and before the Discovery of that Plot ; I received above Forty Ler-rers in different hands ; all dated from different parts of the Kingdom. Some sign'd Teigue mac Dermot, some Dermot mac
Teigue, some with two Letters, others not Sign'd at all, but every one threatening that in a short time I should pay no less than the price of my Life, for offering to discover to great truths, as to tell that there was such a thing as a Plot on Foot. or dare to quote the precious Names of Judge Nugent, or the worshipful Alderman Malone, If they were not concern'd therein, why should they from so different parts of the Nation, and from so many different hands, write The Pillory should not serve my turn, but the Gallows ; I should dearly pay for my Predictions. I had writ as severely against them before, without being so threatned : And what is more, which confirms since the Discovery of the Plot, I never Received one Line to that purport ; but my Opinion is, That there was but very few Papists, either in England or Ireland, but had assurance that their late King James would then be Restored, and that they should thereby have opportunity to exercise their Malice, not only upon me, but indeed King WILLIAM and all his Friends, and faithful Subjects. And further to confirm this Reasonable Supposition, I judge few who live among, or have any intimate Conversation with them, but may Remember how as soon as the first Discourse began last year of Peace, with what Impudence, the Papists of this Kingdom of Ireland would, and did, often ask their Protestant Neighbours, and Friends in whom they had any Confidence ; Where are you now ? What do you think of your King now ? There is a General Peace concluded, and King James is to be Restored, and your King William to march back again to Holland ; and such like Stuff, which though as false as themselves, was a plain demonstration at least of their Inclinations, if not of their being concern'd in the Plot also. It shews what they would be at, and if so, I am certain their former Civilities of Forty one, as well as those of the late Wars can give all Protestants but little Reason to conclude, they would either then, or any other time omit, the imbracing that, or any other opportunity, which could carry the least hopes of accomplishing their Desires. when they begin next will be the first time ; but when that will be, is able to puzzle the Heads of all the Astrologers in Christendom to foretel any otherwise then by the following Signs, Viz.

In April 1696. I told you among other Things, That about that time there would be a talk of Peace, and Princely Weddings, but that time was not then yet come.; and in June, among other Proceedings there is some New Wheel on Foot; perhaps some New Confederacy, or Marriage, or both, now makes England happy, at least there is some Discourse tending that way. And in September, Ha! ha! What welcome News comes here?

A talk of Peace; I wish it were A Peace in earnest, but I fear,
That Blessed time is not so near.

Great

Great Meetings and great Matters too,
Are now on Foot great Things to do,
The two Superiors greet the Sun,
And shews some mighty Business done.

All things seem now flowing in Streams of Sweet and Loving Imbraces, and several Treaties and Consultations which former Months could not bring to a desired period, now obtain a most happy Issue; however, I rather conclude them about some mighty Match or New League, &c. than for Peace, I believe that Saturn translating the Sextile of Mars to the other five Eraticks, may produce Treaties of Peace; but not such as can effect but rather retard it.

My Friend Mr. Partridge and Mr. Gadbury in England did Treat largely both of the Plot and the Treaties of Peace; and Mr. Cumsty in Ireland, did hint at them also; but neither of 'em or any other that I could yet see, except my self, had one syllable of the Treaties for Marriage, of which the World in those very Months did every where Ring. Nor yet of the Noised and dreaded Greatness, yet disapointments of the Turk; or of the Persian falling upon him, as in the 4th page of the General Observations for the last year; you may find I did foretel; and was Confirmed in our Publick News (and particularly) from Constantinople; where it is said, the Prince of Arabia assisted by the King of Persia has over run the Kingdom of Bessora belonging to the Turk, &c.

Reader, Tho' I was willing for the Reputation of my Art to Remark some of these Predictions; yet I had not insisted so largely upon them, but to let the World see the baseness of some fellows, who through my means are brought to great part of their present Bread; yet have endeavoured to perswade the World I was never capable of writing any thing of that kind. However, I desire I may not be construed, thereby to boast of surpassing Abilities: For I look upon Mr. Partridge and Mr. Gadbury to be the two ablest Proficients in Judicial Astrology now living. Yet neither they, nor any other (at least ingenious) professors of Astrology, can pretend to be so absolute, as to foresee, and be particular in every thing, for (Multum est rebus Caelestibus, aliquid cognoscere) It is much to know a little of Heavenly Things; and if so, much more to know all Things.

General Observations for the Year 1697.

Things. The Divine Lawyer and Physitian, do not pretend to perfection, and all they say to be infallible: Therefore it were more unreasonable to expect it from Astrologers, who only guess at things below, by the Motions and Configurations of these Glorious Bodies the Stars. Ars vera est, sed pauci artifices reperuntur. The Art is true, but there are but few that understand it; and of that few, none are free from Humane Infirmities.

But to sum up this Discourse in my Observations on December 1696. I signified, That besides other preceeding Observations, and Configurations there mentioned, that there then happened a Malignant Conjunction of Saturn and Mars in Capricorne the Radical Ascendant of the King of Spain and Dauphin of France, which therefore would not fail to disturb both those Persons in an eminent manner: But happening so near the end of that year, I thought fit to suspend my Judgment thereon till the beginning of this year 1697. and for the better performance of that now; I take leave to observe, that there was a Conjunction of the same Planets in the same Sign (but not the same Degree) Dec. 1694. attended with four or five others the same Month. What was then on foot, the since execution of some of the Managers give sufficient Evidence.

I could instance several Villanies of the like kind, which have been hatcht under the like Configurations; and therefore expect but little good from their Meeting now.

There is no Balm in Gilliad.

Every Conjunction of the Planets, have signification of Meetings, Consultations and Debates, of one kind or other; but those of Saturn and Mars, at best always such, as are for Mischief; and in a more especial manner, when as now at the Winter Ingress, falling upon the Angle of Contentions, and place of Sol at the time of the Great Conjunction 1682. and what yet farther aggravates the Mischief, in Square to Jupiter from Cardinal Signs; and therefore during this Winter Quarter, they will be found to produce more than common Mischiefs; but where, I leave time to discover; for it is not convenient Astrologers should always discover all they know; nor perhaps for me at this time; let it suffice here to tell you, that the Evils will be eminent, and such as concern the Affairs of States, Laws, Customs and Constitutions of Nations; and Persons

General Observations for the Year 1697.

sons and things of the most Eminent concern therein, Some great Woman will have a Finger in the Pie. If the many Treaties lately on foot for Peace, did not produce their Ratification (as I conclude they did not) These Configurations will make a sweeping Hurricane among them; And I believe, leave things in a worse State than they found them; or at best, if a General Peace be under them concluded, it will be such a one, as Mounfieur used to make, to be kept till the first opportunity offer it self to break it; and far worse to some People of Europe, than their last seven years War.

He that hath an Ear let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches (Revel. 2. 7.) to him that overcometh will I give the Tree of Life.

Mars is Author of Strife, Commotions, Wars, Duells, Bloodshed, Discord, and all other Acts of Violence, and botheaded Mischiefs; and as now Posited, Foyned and Aspected; So he signifies, that during this Winter Quarter, there will be more than ordinary Debates, Meetings and Consultations, tending to such purposes; and which instead of healing past Evils, will rather beget New ones, and such too, as in Conclusion will not fail to be attended with store of Scarlet Favours. And if I mistake not their Language, That Conjunction of Saturn, Mars and Venus, Translating the Light of the Moon, to the Square of Jupiter, (in an Astrological Dialect) is as much as to say, that in December last, or the two first Months of this year; there was, or will be, more than a little Popish-Jugling on foot, to undermine and destroy the very fundamental security of the Protestant Religion, Power, and Interest, (not in one place or Country only, but) in several (if not in all) parts of Christendom. I will not be positive, because all Men by the Fall, are Intituled to Oversight; yet such as shall impartially consider the foregoing part of these General Observations, must (if candid) confess, I have hitherto been as seldome mistaken as most that have Written Subjects of this kind. I wish I may be mistaken now: And tho I be so, yet I hope it cannot injure any Protestant, to say, that I fear (their avowed Enemies) the Papiists; are now endeavouring and contriving, how to blow Coals of Sedition among them, in order to work their Destruction. And that therefore they will do well to Arm themselves (not only now, but at all other times) against Evils, which they have lately been so signal sufferers by. If it happen not to be absolutely so; I am very Confident, it will be something like it. For at the best such Positions and Configurations always are the Harbingers of Quarrels, Duels, Law-Suits, Controversies, Accusations and Troubles, in abundance of one kind or other, among most degrees of People, but chiefly such Persons, and about such things, as are signified by the Planet Afflicted, and (in this case) such are Bishops, Judges, Lawyers and Clergymen in general, Commanders at Sea, Fleets, Sailers, and such things and matters as relate to the Law, and things Ecclesiastical in particular: It was said by no less then the Saviour of the World, Mark 3. 24, 25. That a Kingdom or a House divided against it self cannot stand, all the Force Titus Vespasian had, could never have Sack't Jerusalem if the Jews had united and agreed among themselves, Nor will all the Power of Hell and Rome, ever be able to obtain their Ends against us, and our Holy Religion; If we Unite among our selves,

General Observations for the Year 1697.

Felix quem faciunt, aliena pericula cautem, happy are they that will take timely warning. We see our Enemies every where unite like Birdlime; and even in Ireland, not one Papist among Ten thousand, will lay out so much as two pence with one of us, or entertain a Protestant Servant, if they can any where among themselves be as conveniently supplied. And yet so strangely blinded and besotted are we; that notwithstanding the continued Experience, both we and our Forefathers have always had, of their frequent Massacres, Murders, Robbing, Plundering, and other Mischiefs, (which they never loose any opportunity that offers to Renew) yet we cannot take warning, but daily let them insinuate themselves, by their Fawning, Wiedling, and Disimulation into our Bosomes; so that indeed we rather chuse to deal with, and make use of them, as Servants and Tenants, than one another, when as, if due incouragement, were given to Protestants, by Protestants; such numbers would be induced, to flock to Ireland, as might be able to prevent, the Destruction their Enemies have so frequently brought upon the Nation. What service or vertue can we boast of, that we should suppose to merit an extraordinary living Care, from God beyond others of his People, so as to give us always miraculous Deliverances rances from Miseries, which he hath often been pleased to enable us, to take measures to avoid? Have all his Mercies made us more Holy and Religious, or more Friendly, Kind, and Charitable towards one another? Is our Pride, or other Crying Sins abated? If not Remember ô Man, God will not always be mocked, but unless timely Remedy be used, will easily find ways to be Avenged on his Enemies. His hand is not shortned; but the same Yesterday, to Day and for ever, and hath many other Rods to Correct the Disobedient, besides the Sword.

General Observations for the Year 1697.

God once more, hath delivered the Sword into our Hands, and put us into a posture to secure our selves; and given us a King who instead of hindring (as his predecessors hath done from providing for our own Security) Daily Prompts his Parliaments to it. Thro' the favour of Heaven the breath is in his Nostrils, and may the great God of Heaven long continue it there, and him to be a Nourishing Father to these Kingdoms; but since it is appointed once for all Men to die; and the Lease of every Life in the hands of God, 'tis abundantly more expedient, we make use of time while we are certain of it, than spend so precious Minutes, in Quarreling with one another: And when we have done, only have the opportunity of wishing, we had Employed our pretious hours better.

The Spring Quarter for this year 1697. Begins in the Meridian of Dublin, March the 9th 18 minutes past five in the afternoon; and to make amends for the Cross Configurations of the last Ingress, all the Aspects at this are friendly, and thereby shews Endeavours, Applications and Debates in abundance to be used this Spring for Rectifying and Composing what former Months left in Confusion and Undetermin'd. Whatever they are; whether for healing breaches between Nation and Nation, or particular Persons, or people in any Nation, the Progress seems considerable; and at least to succeed so far as to lay (at least) a foundation whereon to build such a Structure for time in future; but though I believe the Progress will be considerable: Yet I fear the Mundane Parallel of Saturn, from the fifth (the house of Ambassays) to Sol and Mars joyn'd, in the House of Contentions will for the present hinder those so desired Conclusions; and if so, the Position of Heaven at the Summer Ingress (June the 10th, 35 minutes past 7 in the Afternoon) instead of Lessening, will rather enlarge

General Observations for the Year 1697.

the breach, and produce variety of Mischiefs, and particularly such as will beget Blows and Bloody Noses, if not thundering Noise at Sea also. In the mean time, I judge those Healing endeavours will not wholly sursease, but towards the litter end of the Summer bring things to their desired Issue, whether they be such as relate to the concerns of Nations, or particular Persons: Yet Jupiter at the Autumnal Ingreſs in Square to Saturn, and Changing his Sign, will undoubtedly give Removals of several kinds, and particularly among such as relate to the Gown and Bench.

A Friendly AdVERTISEMENT to the Sick.

READER, if you be but a Christian, I suppose you will readily conclude with me, That the works of God are all Easie, and to be found of all that duly seek them. 'Tis Avarice and the selfish ends of Covetous men, that makes things seem dark and myſterious. And let the pretence be what they will, it is nothing but that, and for fear (like Demetrius the Silver Smith, Acts 19. 27.) That their own Craft should be set at nought: That makes several little Whiſſing Apothecaries, Blood Leeches, and other Pretenders to Chyrurgery and Phyſick, endeavour to perſwade People (as I am told ſeveral of them frequently do) against the Use of my Elixir Cardiaca and Catholick Powder, as things that are dangerous and unſafe; when as in Truth, nothing of their kind upon the face of the Earth, can be more ſafe and excellent for the uſe of all Families and Travellers; either by Sea or Land. No creature, either young or old, that ever uſed them in any climate, place or ſeaſon; either hot or cold, ever found the leaſt evil effects from them; but on the contrary, no one that ever took them (according to the Printed Directions) but found benefit either more or leſs by them.

First, The Catholick Powder, is the most powerful, excellent nimble purging Medicine, ever uſed againſt all Raw, Crude, undigeſted, moiſt or watry humours. Few Caſes where Purging is needful, but one doſe of this Powder, will work greater Effects, than five or ſix of moſt others whatſoever; for it cleaſeth the body and blood of all filthy, groſſe, ſalt and ſower humours, as Fullers Earth ſcowers Cloath, and thereby Kills and Deſtroys even the very Eſſence and ſeed of all Worms, Lice and other Vermine; and brings the Kings Evil, and all other Swellingſ, Botches, Boyls,

A Friendly Advertisement to the Sick.

Boyls, Old Ulcers, Tetters, Ring-Worms, Cankers, Cancers, Scabs, Itch and all other foul spreading Sores, which cannot otherwise be Cured, either in the legs, or any other part of the body to a speedy Healing. One Dose of this Powder, is a special Remedy against all Surfeits, Sower and bitter Belchings, and after hard Drinking.

Secondly, The Elixir Cardiaca is so powerful a Cordial, that many when Speechless and so Weak, that they could neither take that, nor any thing else inwardly, by only bathing the stomach with it, have to admiration recovered.

It is one of the greatest Remedies in the world against the Measles, Malignant Feavors, and all other contagious Distempers and Poyson whatsoever, If taken in time nothing so powerfully prevents the dangers of the Small Pox, and if flatted in, it forceth them out in two or three hours time; and beyond all other things, Stops the Looseness, which is one of the most dangerous Symptoms, that attends the Small-Pox.

It cures the Tooth-Ach, Gripping of the Guts and After pains in less than one hours time: and the Country Disease and all other Fluxes incident to either Men or Women commonly in one Week, but often in half the time: yet provokes those in women beyond any other Remedy. It is the best of Remedies against Womens Longings and Miscarriage, yet nothing so speedily causeth Delivery in hard and dangerous Travel. It gives present ease in the most wrecking Torments of the Gout, Rheumatism, Chollick, Stone or Gravel, or any other Pain, in any part of the body proceeding from any cause whatever, and gives sweet Rest in want of Sleep; yet hinders extraordinary sleeping.

Thirdly, This Powder and Elixir joyntly taken according to the Printed Directions given with them, are the best of Remedies against the Head-Ach, Megrim, Vertigoe, Quinsy, Pluresie, Palpitation, or trembling of the heart, Hagg or Nightmare, Consumption, Colds, Coughs, Phytisick, Wheeving, shortness of breath, all Defluxions of Rhume (falling upon the Eyes, Teeth, Gums, Throat, or other part of the body) Old Aches, Bruises or Falls, Obstruction, or hardness of the Liver and Spleen, Chacaxy, Rickets, Greeusickness, Vomiting, spitting and pissing of blood; flushing in the Face, freckles and all other Discolourings of the SKIN. Many who have had two or three hundred Convulsion

Fits

A Friendly Advertisement to the Sick.

Fits in five or six days time never had above one or two Fits at the most after they have taken this Powder and Elixir; but have been perfectly cured in two or three days time: Nothing so speedily cures the Cramp.

They ~~never~~ fail in 6 or 7 days at the longest safely and securely to ~~cure~~ the Gonorrhoea, or Running of the Reins, without the help of any other Medicine whatever; and the French Pox in five or six Weeks, when Fluxing, and all other Medicines have proved ineffectual. The Chollick and Faundice and all sorts of Agues, they commonly Cure in five or six days at the utmost. But above all other Remedies under Heaven, I Recommend this Elixir and Powder for the Scurvy, Hypochondriack-Melancholly and Dropsy; for in each of those Cases, one or two Papers of the Powder and as many of the Elixir, often doth the Work; but in five or six Weeks they never fail, provided the inward Parts be not so decayed, as to be past all Remedy. They have Cured above a hundred of the Dropsy within twelve Months last past; and in all that I did see, they mist but one whoever took them.

Each Pacquet of the Powder contains enough for three times taking to the strongest Body, and each bottle 9 or 10 times taking, and are sold for 18 d. each, with Printed Directions for their use, at my own House at the Blew-Posts, on the West side of Stephen's Green, Dublin. At Cork by Thomas Dyer Clothier, and John Stone Merchant; At Bandon by Will. Murrey, Gent. At King'sale by John Lewis Master Gunner; At Mallow by Dan. Savory Merchant; At Mitchells-Town by Peter Sears Merchant; At Glennell by Charles Waters Chyrurgion; At Limyrick by Andrew Lyon Merchant; At Killkenny by John Plummer Innkeeper; At Carlque by John Cooper Bookseller; At Galloway by Mrs. Mary Hoskins Widow; At Loughrea by John Whalley Clothier; At Athlone by Mr. George Thomas Merchant. At Mullengar by James Jonson Merchant; At Drogheda by Tho. Feild Merchant; At Newry by John Loffson Merchant; At Lisnegarvy by Sam. Herring Merchant; At Belfast by Thomas Martyn Merchant; At Antrim by Will. Stewart Merchant; At Coleraine by Alexander Cambell Merchant; At London-Derry by Alexander Cunningham Postmaster; At Ardmagh by Tho. Feild Merchant. Some of these places were not timely supplied last year; but for the future shall not be unfurnished, by
